DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Drawing should be in English.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

Claims 1, 3-5, and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Johansson et al (6,184,609).

See figs. 1 and 2 and line 63 of column 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Johansson et al (6,184,609).

Johansson et al (6,184,609) do not disclose using AgPd.

The court has found that the selection of a known material based on its suitability for its intended use is obvious. In re Leshin, 227 F.2d 197, 125 USPQ 416 (CCPA

1960). Sinclair & Carroll Co. v. Interchemical Corp., 325 U.S. 327, 65 USPQ 297

(1945). The Examiner takes Official Notice that AgPd is known as an electrical conductor. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use AgPd for the purpose of using its known properties.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 24 September 2001 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The Applicant appears to be trying to claim around the Johansson et al (6,184,609), but given the claims broadest reasonable interpretation it still reads on fig. 2 of the reference. The primary objective of the invention is immaterial in claim construction.
